

The Timagotchi Pro is a remake of the original Timagotchi. Which was to help students with adhd time blindness* to help manage their time more efficiently. The pro aims to reduce the price while also increasing capabilities significantly. The pro boasts a new battery, a D-Pad, a speaker, a touchscreen, & the price is still lower than the original. It allows people to see the amount of time that has passed at a glance while maintaining focus.

*Issues telling how much time has passed

✖ We are still designing the firmware and the ui, so no features are final.. expect a progress bar, no distractions and we might make it an alarm clock :)
